OGLETHORPE TROPHY WINNERS
2006 CIVILIAN TEAM CHAMPIONS

RON STEINBRECHER BRIAN KEYSER STEVEN GIBBONS JOSEPH TOMARELLI

STATE PISTOL TEAM WINS AT THE NATIONAL MATCHES

Submitted by Jeffrey Lloyd, Pistol Director

The Camp Perry National Pistol Matches were held from July 11 to July 16, 2006. Three teams in the National Match Pistol Team Match represented the Pennsylvania Rifle & Pistol Association.

The first team, the PRPA High Masters, consisted of Raymond Wallander of Pleasant Gap, Tom Mix of Ebensburg, Brian Keyser of Birdsboro and Brian Dean of Butler. The first day of competition was with .22 pistols; the High Master team finished in second place. The second day of competition was fired with center fire pistols--they finished in 3rd place in that segment. The third day was fired with .45 pistols, with the team finishing in second place. The team finished in 3rd place overall.

The second team, the PRPA Experts, consisted of Kevin Martin of Stroudsburg, Steve Gibbons of Lewistown, Jeff Lloyd of Cresson, and Dennis Kriek of Glenshaw. On the first day of competition, the Experts came in 7th place. The Experts came in 8th on center fire day and on .45 day, it was 10th place. The final standings put the Experts in 8th place overall out of 24 teams.

The third team, the PRPA Blue, consisted of Dermid McDonald of Gettysburg, Steven Fleck of Portage, James Carras of Fleming, and Clemens Arlinghaus of Exton. In the first day of competition the Blue team came in 16th place. The second day of competition showed the team in 23rd place. On .45 day, the team finished in 15th place. The overall position for the Blue team was 21st out of 24 teams.

The Pennsylvania Rifle & Pistol Association Service Pistol Team was the bright spot for the team competition. The service pistol team was comprised of 6 members: State Champion Ron Steinbrecher (Team Captain), Raymond Wallander, Brian Keyser of Birdsboro, Steve Gibbons, Joseph Tomarelli of Limerick (who was the "New Shooter") and Rick Eickhoff of Royesford. The firing members were picked by the best scores in the President's 100 and the National Trophy Individual Match.

The firing members were Wallander, Steinbrecher, Gibbons and Tomarelli. Ray fired a 279-4x, Ron fired a 275-3x, Steve fired a 272-6x and Joe fired a 259-5x. This gave the team a total of 1085-18x and the Civilian Team Championship. This brings the Oglethorpe Trophy back to the friendly confines of Pennsylvania again! In addition to the Oglethorpe, the Eli Root medal was awarded to Raymond Wallander for firing the top score of any civilian shooter!

Congratulations to the Best Civilian "Ball" Team in the USA! Thanks to all the shooters on the team that represented the State Association at the Nationals. Well done!!

Also a special note to Raymond Wallander as a firing member of the NRA / USA Civilian Pistol Team--Ray fired a 572 total score on the match and was the high shooter for the team. Well Done!!

DOUBLE RIFLES AND OTHER NEAT GUNS

Submitted by Steve Lee Parsons

I've wanted a Double ever since Dad took me to see "King Solomon's Mines" about 1952. Finally bought a new Pedersoli, Kodiak MK IV .45-70. This gun is a reproduction of the Colt Double Rifles produced in the 1880's. The external hammers are really neat ("a gun without hammers is like a dog without ears"--King of England, c. 1906).

Sam Colt's son only made about 50 of them as gifts for friends. Pedersoli has improved on the original with such features as rebounding hammers, better steel, etc. I am really impressed by the quality. Getting about 2-3" groups at 100 yards, and this is really a 50 yard up close and personal, rifle. I can fire with both barrels cocked, and there is no quicker way to get off two 405 grain bullets heading towards the target at 1300 fps. It can also handle 500 grain bullets with no problem.

In September, we were vacationing in Northern Italy and visited the Pedersoli factory, north of Milan. These folks were very hospitable, giving us the full factory tour. I know a little about manufacturing and what I saw was a blending of old world craftsmanship and the latest in CNC machining equipment. With only 50 employees, they shipped 20,000 hand and long guns last year. The variety is astounding, from early 1700's flintlocks to Colt Lightnings from the 1890's, about 50 different models. To my knowledge, there is no other gun manufacturer at home or overseas with this variety of product.

This area is the home of Beretta and many smaller companies, and they have been making firearms going back to the 1500's when the English and Germans were still whacking away at each other with axes. Their Springfield, Sharps, and Remington models are equally impressive with a lot of hand finishing. All stocks are American and European high grade walnut and maple, aged for one year before final fit and finish. They use many distributors here at home--Cabela's, Dixie Gun Works, EMF, etc. I'm just a shooter and collector. I have no connection with the company, other than as a customer. If you're looking for great quality and value, check out their website www.davide-pedersoli.com,

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Here we are at the end of another summer, a summer that saw Pennsylvania shooters again rising to the top in national championships. Many of those winning performances were described in the last issue of The Shooting News. Of special interest are the efforts of our juniors, especially in small bore and air rifle. It's great to see many of these fine junior competitors being recognized and being awarded scholarships to compete in NCAA College shooting programs throughout the U.S.A., some as far away as Alaska.

However, don't you think that these fine champion shooters should be able to compete in Pennsylvania College NCAA sanctioned shooting programs? Why should they have to leave Pennsylvania to compete? Penn State used to be a powerhouse in NCAA rifle. Many renowned champions came out of that program. Why can't it happen again? If you investigate the sports history at Penn State you will find that Rifle has the oldest tradition of all the sports programs at that fine school. Yes, "Virginia", even football doesn't have a longer tradition. Maybe we should get that tradition in motion again. Aren't we the organization to spearhead this effort? I believe it can be done.

On the legislative front, much has been happening both at the state and federal level. You may have been reading about the National Concealed Carry Reciprocity bill that is being proposed. This is a very questionable bill, and my own personal feelings about the present proposal are quite negative. I believe that it will relinquish individual state control over concealed carry to national control, opening the door to national standards over which Pennsylvania would have very little say. Philadelphia representatives are continuing to push for their usual batch of anti-gun legislation. These include Gov. Rendell's 2002 campaign proposal; One-Gun-A-Month. Also up for discussion is the repeal of Preemption, which was obtained as part of the infamous Act 17 of 1995. Preemption prevents Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or other municipalities from passing laws in conflict with state law. A good pro-gun bill introduced earlier is the "Castle Doctrine" or duty-to-retreat" bill sponsored by Rep Capalli. We need this one to pass. To postpone anti-gun bill votes in the Pennsylvania House, House Majority Leader Sam Smith called for a meeting of the "House Committee of the Whole on Crime and Violence" to listen to and take informal votes on a variety of proposed gun bills. These votes will help determine which bills will be considered in the regular session of the House. The meeting was held September 26, 2006 at the Capital in Harrisburg. On the same date, several other organizations celebrated National Hunting and Fishing Day in Harrisburg.

NEW MEMBERS POOL

Submitted by Steve Lee Parsons

There is a great pool of potential new PRPA members all around us--the 582,000 Pennsylvania residents holding valid concealed carry permits (CCW's).

We are pledged to support the NRA as it furthers the objectives and purposes of the PRPA. We also strive to protect our constitutional right of the individual citizen to bear arms, in "defense of family, person, and property, as well as defend the nation and the individual liberty of its citizens" (PRPA bylaws).

If we could get only 10 % of PA CCW holders to join both the NRA and PRPA this would be 50,000 new members for both organizations!

So, let's concentrate on family, neighbors, friends who are fellow license holders. We all have these contacts. Let's all endeavor to sign up at least 5 new members during 2007!

ROGER TREMBA -- MATCH WINNER

Submitted by Andrew Knez Jr.

Mild temperatures and winds at McDonald Sportsmen's Club on August 5, 2006 were very deceptive, and most shooters at the BPCR Silhouette match shot lower than normal scores. Roger Tremba from Parker, Pennsylvania stayed alert and on top of the conditions as they made frequent 180 degree switches. Tremba turned in an excellent score of 30/40 for the match win, which was two points ahead of his nearest challengers. John Heeter and Gary Schweitzer (each with 28's) shot-off with Heeter taking 2nd open and Schweitzer settling for 3rd open. John Whitcomb won master class and Bob Bloyer took 2nd master over Kermit Hoke. Ken White won AAA class, and Karl Hovatter won a shoot-off for 2nd AAA over Tim Trunick. Dave Schwartz won AA class and Debra Hovatter took 2nd AA. John Haagen won 1st A and Frank Cochran took 2nd A. B class was won by Chuck Cook and Ed Heeter won the scope class.

CHILSON WINS OCTOBER BPCR MATCH

Submitted by Andrew Knez Jr.

Brian Chilson won the October 7, 2006 BPCR Silhouette match at McDonald Sportsmen's Club. Beautiful weather greeted the thirty-six competitors for the next to the last match of the 2006 season. Changing winds frustrated many of the shooters and scores were generally lower than usual. Brian Chilson and his wife/spotter Debbie stayed on top of those changes and he turned in an excellent score of 33/40, which was the only master score of the day. John Whitcomb won 2nd open and Dave Heeter took 3rd open. Roger Tremba won 1st master and Bob Bloyer won a shoot-off against Ross Arnfield for 2nd master. John Heeter and Tim Trunick 1st and 2nd AAA respectively. Richard McDonald won 1st AA and Mike Shamonsky took 2nd AA after winning a shoot-off against Bob Frame. Tom Barr won the combined A/B class and Mark Smith took 2nd A/B. Ed Heeter won the scope class.

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY RIFLE FORUM

Submitted by Ruth Harpster (rah18@psu.edu)

An educational program promoting awareness about Pennsylvania competitive shooting sports, training, and scholastic opportunities for shooters was hosted by Centre County's Tussey Mountain Junior 4-H Rifle Club on July 13, 2006, at The Pennsylvania State University (PSU) White Building Rifle Range. The activities of the Penn State Rifle Club and Penn State Rifle Team were discussed. The event was attended by PSU faculty, staff, and students, Centre County Commissioner Steve Dershem, Pennsylvania Rifle and Pistol Association (PRPA) President Jack Lee, former PSU Rifle Team Coach Joe Dilkes, as well as the general public.

Dave Cramer, PRPA Smallbore Director and of the Frazier Simplex Club, Aliquippa, PA, assisted by Joel Dutra of the Dubois Storm Rifle Club, DuBois, PA and Terry Lightner of the Alexandria Sportsmens Club, Huntingdon, PA, and several junior shooters, began the evening with an overview of the safety training juniors are taught and the preferred prone, kneeling and offhand position techniques and equipment used by shooters during matches.

Junior shooters Nicole Harpster, Jennifer Hawk, Danielle Peters, George Peters, Dave Sloan (Tussey Mt. Jr. 4-H Club), Leslie Angeli, Allison Paulson, Jed Neidigh (Palmyra Sportsmens Association), Christina Dutra, Justin Pentz and Michael Kulbacki (Dubois Storm) gave an offhand demonstration and discussed their results with the audience. The demonstration allowed the audience to see first hand the stamina and mental focus of these athletes.

Paul Klimitas, Associate Athletic Director, head varsity rifle coach, and NCAA Rifle Committee Member with the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia (USP) discussed his experiences and provided statistics that demonstrate the safety record of shooting sports. According to Paul, in his thirty years of coaching varsity rifle on the collegiate level there has never been a major injury sustained in a collegiate or Olympic event to his knowledge. In addition, a varsity rifle program is much less expensive to organize and operate in comparison to most other sports. The program has remarkable flexibility in meeting the federal regulations under Title IX and is a wonderful opportunity for schools to promote true gender equity in varsity athletics. Skiing and fencing are the only other NCAA sports that are co-ed and of the three, shooting is the only one in which men and women compete head-to-head for individual championship titles. He further described the mental and physical attributes of individuals who participate in this sport. He believes a varsity rifle team is a great asset to any university as a whole since it is a safe sport, fairly inexpensive to operate and men and women compete equally. Varsity shooters generally have above-average grade point averages, are usually members of the National Honor Society, have a graduation rate of 85%, and are sound mentally and physically. ARE YOU INTERESTED IN RUNNING TARGET SHOOTING EVENTS?

The PRPA is seeking to determine the current interest and participation in Running Target Shooting by PRPA members and clubs. This information will be considered in possible development of future Running Target shooting activities. Please send your response to Jack Lee, 100 Wycliffe Way, Butler, PA 16001. Include your club affiliation and contact information.

In your response, please answer the following questions concerning your club and/or your individual activities related to any type of running target shooting (deer, boar, etc).

1. Does your club currently promote any type of running target shooting activities?
2. If you answered yes to the above question, please briefly describe these shooting activities including type(s) of events (running deer, boar, etc), shooting distances, multi and or single shots, length of target exposure (distance and time), any equipment requirements (rifle caliber, sight type, rifle weight), shooting clothing restrictions if any.
3. If your club and or individuals currently have any type of Running Target shooting range please briefly describe your range equipment and operation. Examples would include steel or paper targets, silhouette patterns (deer, boar, etc), method of target operation (gravity feed cable system, electro-mechanical system, etc).
4. If a calendar of Running Game events were established, what do you perceive would be the interest level in the following events?
High Power Rifle Events: High Interest Medium Interest Small Interest No Interest
Small-bore Rifle Events: High Interest Medium Interest Small Interest No Interest
Air Rifle Events: High Interest Medium Interest Small Interest No Interest

Your consideration of this will be appreciated. Your response will be helpful in the development of additional shooting programs!

Erin Gestl, PA State Junior Civilian Marksmanship Program Advisor and Youth Advisor with Palmyra Sportsmen's Association, Palmyra, PA provided information on Pennsylvania junior accomplishments, matches that many in the State compete in (local, state, national, world and Olympic), funding, new State programs, and education of the athletes. Leslie Angeli and Erin Gestl demonstrated one of the mental training drills his club conducts in which the coaches will attempt to distract the shooters. This led to a few chuckles by the audience but demonstrated how well shooters are able to concentrate on the task at hand.

Pennsylvania junior shooters in the air rifle and small-bore rifle disciplines are invited each year for training sessions at the U.S. Olympic Training Center. These individuals may be members of 4-H, sportsmen's associations, or other clubs sponsored by organizations such as the Jaycees, American Legion, etc. Many of these shooters also compete at national championship matches and world matches.

The majority of these individuals will continue to compete in this sport and will improve their skills, both athletically and academically.

At present, ten PA juniors attend out-of-state institutions in order to continue their shooting careers at the NCAA level. Miss Jamie Beyerle, a native of Lebanon, PA is a senior at the University of Alaska—Fairbanks. She is the 2006 NCAA Smallbore Champion. She has been selected to be a member of the 2006 NRA All-American Smallbore Rifle First Team and the Air Rifle First Team. NRA All-Americans must meet a set of criteria that includes, but is not limited to, marksmanship skills, grade point average, and leadership qualities. Miss Beyerle is now training at the U.S. Olympic Training Center with the goal of becoming an Olympian.

Glenn Dubis, 1984, 1988, 1996 & 2000 Olympian; former Head Coach with the University of Alaska--Fairbanks, now of Colorado Springs, CO provided statistics on shooters in the Eastern region who receive scholarships at schools outside PA and discussed the mental and physical training he did while preparing for matches.

The audience learned how many outstanding shooters live in Pennsylvania and the opportunities that the state funded higher educational institutions have missed, and will continue to miss, by not sponsoring this sport at the NCAA level. Unfortunately, many of our top junior shooters continue to leave the Commonwealth for higher education so they may continue to pursue this sport. These individuals will go on to pursue careers in many different fields and will most likely be among the top professionals in the future. This sport provides individuals with skills they will use in other areas of their lives.

2006 PENNSYLVANIA LONG RANGE CHAMPIONSHIP

Submitted by Gerry Sanders

Saturday, September 23, 2006 dawned very foggy at the rifle range of THE ORIGINAL PENNSYLVANIA 1000 YARD BENCHREST CLUB. This range is the home range of the BODINES 1000 YARD PRONE RIFLE LEAGUE, host club of this years State Long Range Championship match. The match was delayed for three hours due to the persistent fog that hugged the range and made it impossible to see the targets at 1000 yards. The down time allowed shooters to discuss some of the more important world events, share shooting related information, and to enjoy some of Judy Smith's homemade chicken noodle soup. If you happen to visit Judy's concession stand, be sure to try some her world renowned Riley Relish.

Close to noon, the first shots were fired down range. The pesky fog was still present but with some improvement. Thirty-three shooters from Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Virginia, and Connecticut were in the hunt for the high score of the day. Subtle wind changes were taking place, along with a heavy haze moving in and out which made for a challenging match.

At the conclusion of the match, two shooters had tied. Applying the Creedmore Rule, the 2006 Pennsylvania Long Range Champion was determined to be Fred Szablewski, who used a rifle custom made by SABRAECO. Brian Litz, with his powerful 6.5-284, came in second place and James Gartrell took third place.

The 2006 Pennsylvania Long Range F-Class Champion is Robert Riley, with his new barrel. In second place was Thomas Delovich; Richard Johnson took third place. This was the first time the new F-Class targets were utilized and allowed the F-Class shooters to see the challenges that go along with a decreased scoring area.

The Bodines Prone Rifle League would like to thank everyone who supported the long range matches throughout the 2006 shooting season and the Pennsylvania Rifle & Pistol Association for their support for this championship match. This is the best attendance at a Pennsylvania State Long Range Championship in many years. The shooting sports are comprised of some of the best individuals one could hope to meet in their lifetime.
